

The Grand Private Hire Ball

Saturday 10th May 2008
19.00 champagne reception for a 19.45 dinner
InterContinental Hotel - London Park Lane

After last year's event, we sent out a questionnaire. Many table hosts returned them, mostly with very positive thoughts and some constructive ideas, most of which have been acted on; for example, a larger and more convenient venue.

Following this feedback we have moved to the stylish 5 star InterContinental Hotel on Park Lane. This gives us parking and for those wishing to stay overnight, accommodation.

Their Chef has designed a fantastic four course menu for us, which has been tasted by members of the Committee.

By very popular demand, there will be music and dancing until the early hours of the morning – carriages will arrive and the Ball will end at 2.00am.

The dress code is black tie, but those gentlemen preferring lounge suits will be very welcome.

Table sales are going very well and the Committee are delighted at the response, particularly with the sponsors from both the Private Hire industry and their suppliers.

Because there is room for many more tables at this hotel, there is still space for those wishing to join in the fun, either by coming along with clients, colleagues, friends or family, or for those who wish to have a special time with that special person, they can join like minded people and make new friends or catch up with old ones.

We will make up tables of 10 from couples or small groups, under Eddie Townson's direction.

A Premium table ticket is £125 and a Premium table of 10 is £1,250. Don't forget this also gives you an advert in the Programme and one year's membership of the Private Hire Board.

All the Committee look forward to welcoming everyone, both old friends and new.
